SOUTH FLORIDA – To keep community association board members and property managers informed and answer questions about timely topics, leading Florida community association law firm Kaye Bender Rembaum will continue its series of free community association Q&A meetings on Tuesday, February 9 from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at ArtServe, 1350 East Sunrise Blvd. in Fort Lauderdale. The event is generously sponsored by BankUnited.

Now in its eighth year, the series of free community association Q&As are led by Robert L. Kaye, Esq. and Michael S. Bender, Esq. who discuss industry hot topics and are available to answer community association-related questions from board members and property managers of condominium, homeowner and cooperative associations.

"Each year brings new and diverse challenges for board members and community managers," said Kaye. "They all want to run their communities effectively and efficiently and at our town hall meetings, they can come away with best practices. By sharing experiences and asking questions, everyone in the room will gain valuable insight into the issues facing associations today."
