If you have a legal question about your homeowner's association but you didn't want to pay an attorney to ask, now is the time during this free seminar held in Tamarac.

To keep board members and property managers informed and answer questions about timely topics, association law firm Kaye Bender Rembaum will kick off its 2016-2017 series of free community association "Ask the Attorneys" seminars on Tuesday, November 14, at 6:30 p.m. at the Tamarac Community Center.

Now in its 10th year, the series of free seminars led by attorneys Robert L. Kaye and Michael S. Bender will discuss new legislation, industry hot topics and answer community association-related questions from board members and property managers of condominium, homeowner and cooperative associations.

"We hold these open forum seminars to share topical, timely information to help board members and property managers run their associations effectively, efficiently and financially responsibly," said Kaye, Manager of Kaye Bender Rembaum. "There are often lively conversations as the audience shares experiences and ask questions. What we provide is valuable insights across the entire range of issues that community associations face on a daily basis."

Refreshments will be served. Interested attendees should RSVP to KBRLegalSeminar@piersongrant.com or call 954-776-1999, ext. 242. Attendees are encouraged to bring topics for discussion.

The next "Ask the Attorneys" seminar will be held on Wednesday, December 6 at 6:45 p.m. at the Emma Lou Olson Civic Center located at 1801 NE 6th St. in Pompano Beach. More "Ask the Attorneys" are planned through 2018.
